We need not inform our citizens that the above named lady and gentleman are unequaled in their delin eation of character and take the first rank in the theatrical world as their performances here last season received at once the hearty appreciation of both press and public. The piece selected for this evening is from the pen of Mr. Watkins-"Trodden Down or Under Two Flags," which has been played by them in the principal cities of the United States and Great Britain. Mr. Watkins, as the Shergaun Feyns McCarthy—the humble hero of a lost cause-and Mrs. Watkins as the devoted wife of the outlaw, and Blanch McCarthy, the Heiress of Desmond Castle, are truly great, and supported as they are by a select company of acknowledged artists, including the talented little child actress, Little Amy Lee Watkins-we need not say that those attending will be delighted, and have the pleasure of witnessing the first dramatic effort of modern times represented by the very best artists of the present day. Go and get your seats early at Jones' Music and Book Store.

GEN. W. G. LEWIS .- We publish with pleasure, the following resolutions emplimentary to Gen. Wm. Gastor Lewis, formerly Chief Marshal of our State Fair :

"The time has come for testing the courage, constancy, party staunchness fidelity to associates-or to express it all in a word-the manliness of all true Democrats. This is no time for any Democrat, least of all Democrats who accepted Mr. Greeley by the compulsion of party discipline, to flinch. No matter whether a general was assigned us in accordance with our wishes or against our protest. Our honor bids us to be men ; it forbids us to withdraw, after a mishap, the faith and pledges which protests against the original error did not prevent us from giving. We rust it will be found that those of us who went

of Mr. Greeley so long as remonstrance was in order, will show themselves the most faithful and unshaken in the hour of adversity and peril. For our part, after the disappointment at Cincinnati, we preferred, both on grounds of principle and expediency, to go into the contest under a Democratic leader like Mr. Hendricks or Judge Church rather than join forces with the Liberals with such a candidate as Mr. Greeley. But after Mr. Greeley had been fairly nominated at Baltimore, we owed the party the same allegiance as bitterly opposed to the Radicals. good Democrat will be as true to him till the end of the canvass as all Democrats would have been to Mr. Hendricks or any other tried Democratic leader. The Liberal Republicans have acted towards us since the Baltimore Convention, with sincerity and honor; and if a mistaken estimate was made of their strength, the error was equally shared between them and the Democratic majority at Baltimore. Mr. Greeley's conduct and bearing in the canvass have been unexceptionable, and in some respects admirable. He has acted with great prudence under very trying circumstances It is a hazardous experiment for any Presidential candidate to make speeches; but Mr. Greeley passed through that perilous dred votes were lost for our State ticket, ordeal in a manner which raised the public estimate of his discretion and abilities. He did not make his Western trip of his own volition, but at the in-

are so manifestly against us. But Democrats who value their connections and stand on principle will heed us; and we merely give expression to what they all position assumed by the News on hear- is no excuse for dejection or discourageing of the disasters to our party in the ment. Truth and justice must at last prevail; and the certainty of their ultimate triumph depends upon the strong hold they take on the conscience and moral sen:iments of men whose interest in politics is rooted in patriotism and an abiding sense of right. What is it to them that the vote of the ignorant, newly enfranchised negroes is unanimous for Grant ? While Democrats respect the rights, they despise the judgment of this class of voters. They regard the political intelligence of the negroes with pitying contempt; but they cherish a more indignant feeling against the base political prostitutes, purchased by Administration money, whose fraudulent votes and false countrecent defeat into a glorious triumph in ing turned the scale against us in Tues. November, if we stand firm in the hour day's elections. We have been cheated out of success; and no Democrat with the spirit of a man in him will relax There is cause for gloom, but we feated by wholesale frauds. Such rascalities should operate as a fresh incentive to vigor, and this will be their effect on Democratic voters.

The Democracy can easily discriminate between a question of right and a question of mere success. They have been in a minority for twelve trying years, but they have never ceased to battle for principle. Under the most adverse circumstances they have never given way to discouragement; they have maintained their organization; have faced obloquy; have every year grown in numbers; and they are now so formovergrown patronage of the Federal Government and all the resources of fraud to give them a temporary check. The surging tide may be dashed back for the moment, but it will continue to rise, and yet engulf the barriers that opposed it. It would be absurd for the Democrats to slacken their energy now, even if they have no longer any hope of electing Mr. Greeley. Political influence does not depend upon the possession of office. A powerful and determined opposition is the most valuable and efficient means of enforcing the res ponsibility of an Administration.

It is an error to suppose we have nothing to fight for unless we are strong enough to elect our candidates. It would indeed be a great advantage to get possession of the Government, way, provided it is strong enough to make its opposition felt and feared. It we keep on striving for the highest prize we cannot fail of gaining the second. In what remains of the canvass, we must contest the ground inch the Presidency, although the prospect is dark; but if we keep up the fight with vigor we cannot fail to array against General Grant a powerful opposition which he will be compelled to respect, and to which the Republican party will succumb before the end of his second term. Let us be faithful to our personal engagements, and, above all, faithful to principle.

THE Asheville Citizen, under the heading "Recaptured," says : "About a week since, Bayless Henderson, whom our readers remember as the party charged with the murder of Captain Jarrett a few weeks since, made his escape from the jail at Franklin, together with a acres negro, charged with larceny. Two or three days since he was re captured near the place where the murder was committed, and the watch of Capt. Jarrett, which he had worn for forty years, found concealed in his vest pocket. Henderson now eonfesses to the killing of Jarrett. He has been heavily ironed, and placed under a strong guard in Franklin jail. The citizens of that county (Macon), have petitioned the Governor for a special Term, in order that a trial may be had, and his case disposed of. We are not an advocate of lynch law, except where the proof is beyond dispute. This seems to be a case in point."

THE Asheville Pioneer says: "In this issue of our paper we are called upon to chronicle another homicide which occurred eight miles east of Marshall, in Madison county, on Friday night last. The victim was a distiller named B. W. Clark alias Ben Inman, who was sleeping in the still-house at the time of his assassination. From the appearance of the body, and the indications in and around the house, the assassin must have crept softly in without awaking the sleeper, and placing his weapon close to him, discharged its entire contents into his head and shoulder, there being seven buck shot holes in these localities. The perpetrator of this atrocious crime is yet unknown. Our correspondent informs us that at the time of closing his letter the officers were vigilantly searching for the murderer, and that they had arrested a man suspected of having committed the decd.

TWELVE SUPERIOR SHOWS IN ONE. All for a Single Price of Admission In the collection and organization of the Museum the utmost care has been taken to gratify and enlighten the public by presenting in One Vast Assemblage an accumulation such as has never been attempted or dreamed of by the combined tact, talent and liberality of all other managers in America or Europe. It may be interesting for the public to understand that for nearly Two Years Mr. Robinson's numerous Agents, who are found in almost every part of the world, have been actively employed in procuring Curiosities for his Great Traveling Show. Some of these were put on exhibition for the first time last year; but they have been largely supplemented for the present season by new accessions and consignments brought by almost every steamer frem foreign Ports which has arrived in New York for the past eight months. As an illustration of the Indomitable Energy of the well known Proprietor of this stabilishment it may be well to remark In the collection and organization of the As an illustration of the Indomitable Energy of the well known Proprietor of this establishment, it may be well to remark that the Exhaustless Resources of Europe, Asia, Africa and America, with the subdivisions of China, Japan, Australia, the Polar Regions, South Sea Islands, Arabia, Turkey, Siam, Circassia. Egypt, the Pacific, Arctic, Indian and Atlantic Oceans, together with the Red Sea and Holy Land, have all been levied into, contributing to swell the aggregate of this single Department. all occil level this, continuing to swen, which, after all, constitutes but a moiety of all that may be seen, It is estimated that in the Aquarium, Museum, Menagerie and Caravan there are Twenty-Thousand Curiosities. This Stupendous Combination has been brought together at an actual cost to the Proprietor of more than a million of dol-lars; which is ten times more than was ever lars; which is ten times more than was ever invested in a single Show. The curiosities of the several departments represents the choicest excerpts from the realms of Zoology, Ornithology, Geology, Ichthyology, Conchology, Entomology, Anthropology, Mechanics, Numismatics, Science, Statuary, Oil Arts, and so classified for this Great Exhibition as to challenge the admiration not only of naturalists, but of poets, statesmen, philosophers and divines.

Parents, Fabbath and public school teachers should bear in mind that no public exhibition ever instituted in America afforded a tithe of the practical lessons of intuition which are found in this Unique Exposition of object teaching.

With One Hundred Horses, Ponies, Camels Mules, Riding Dogs, Monkeys, Trick Horses, Elephants, and Fitty of the best male and female Artists in the world.

If traveling by wagon would require the actual service of nearly two thousand men and horses, it is futhermore confidently beheved by those most competent to judge, while the management are very emphatic in the statement that, taken in the aggregate, J. with a greater variety of of marvelous features than is generally contained in twenty ordinary shows.

In order that the public may be able to form an approximating conception of the magnitude of this concern, we volunteer the statement that—which will be qualified at any time—the daily expenses attending John Robinson's Exhibition are three times more than the gross receipts of any of the self-styled first-class shows in America. It is, therefore, with no ordinary degree times more than the gross receipts of any of the self-styled first-class shows in America. It is, therefore, with no ordinary degree of confidence that the management announce that these Twelve Great Shows for only one price of admission are positively the largest ever seen on earth.

We respectively solicit the attention of the reader to the following enumeration of only the leading features of the Great Exhibition, as we have not the space to mention the Multitudinous Curiosities with which the entire Exposition so amazingly abounds: The Monster Sea Lions, from Alaska, nine in number, the largest weighing two thousand pounds, consume five hundred pounds of fish daily; the Egyptian Crocosile, twenty feet long; a Texas Steer with three horns and eyes; an Educated Hog, that can read and Talk; the largest Elephant in the world—actual weight five tons; a drove of Camels Buffaloes, Bisons-Sacred Cattle, Llamas; Forty of the small, est Ponies ever seen; a Rhinoceros, or Unicon of Holy Writ, one of the most marvelous specimens ever imported—weight Eight Thousand Pounds, cost $15,000; a pair of Giant Ostriches, twelve feet high; South American Hippotamus, Harte Beast, Horned Horse, Capa Bara, Cashmere Goats, Ebony-Headed Palatine Sheep, Spotted Axis Deer, Bison, of Colorado, American Fallow Deer, South American Jaguar; Silver Lions, of California; Striped and Spotted Hyenas, Peruvian Alpaca; Llama, or Camel of the Andes; Puma or American Congar: American Buffalo, Virginia Panther, Badgers, Peruvian Aipaca; Llama, or Camel of the Andes; Puma or American Congar: American Buffalo, Virginia Panther, Badgers, Senegal Leopords, Australian Kangaroo; Rat Kangaroo of New Zealand; Tawmy Lion, of Zaffra; Shetland Cow, Babyrousa; the Zehu, or 6x Nanda; Spotted Tigers, Black Tiger, African Porcupines and Beavers, the whole forming the Most Magnificent collection of wild animals ever seen at onettime.
